

SPANISH DICTIONARY

David S. Restrepo

INTRODUCTION

amp.wordmeaning.org is an open and collaborative dictionary project that, apart from being able to consult meanings of words, also offers its users the possibility of including new words or nuancing the meaning of existing words in it. As is understandable, this project would be impossible to carry out without the esteemed collaboration of the people who follow us around the world. This e-Book, therefore, was born with the intention of paying a small tribute to all our collaborators.

David S. Restrepo has contributed to the dictionary with 1 meanings that we have approved and collected in this small book. We hope that the reader is very valuable and if you find it useful or want to be part of the project, do not hesitate to visit our website, we will be delighted to receive you.

Working Group

amp.wordmeaning.org

arborista

Arborist: Professional that possesses competence technical, acquired by experience and training, to teach or supervise the management of trees and other woody plants, places residential, commercial and public. (ISA would glossary of terms of Arboriculture) * is incorrect to call it nursery, as it only some Puerto Ricans, who have managed to enter the word recently do arborist do in the dictionary of the Royal Academy of the Spanish language, with the pretext that the arborist study guide published by ISA (???International Society of Arboriculture) translated 2011 with port riquenas influences, says arborist do and not do arborist as it should be.It is of note that the arborist Word does not exist in no other language apart than English in you dictionary, and this because of the effort that has made the ISA in United States to introduce an updated meaning Word.It is not a synonym for arborist either who, as his name indicates it deals with the cultivation of trees.